POSITIVE GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

"There are many attractions held out to-day to intending Insurers. It is all important, however, to ascertain in the first place the financial position of the Institution offering the special advantages. Take it all in all the Positive Government Security offers perhaps the highest security of any Life Office putting forth claims for business. The Assets of the Company on Sist coember, 1891, amounted to over 35 per cent of the total sums useared by its Policies and Positive Notes and Bonuses declared thereon, or nearly ten times its gross premium income, showing a position of strength in relation to its liabilities which no Life Assurance Company at a similar age has ever surpassed. The Pands (invested in names of Trustees, for the Policy-holders) exhibit a remarkable increase. Take two decades. At the end of the year 1872 they were less than 25,000; in December, 1882, they were close upon £220,000; and on the last day of last year they were within £57,000 of half a milion sterling."—Investigation, 20th Oct., 1892. It is an attractive hypothesis, because it is such a big one, but as yet it is a hypothesis of the very crudest kind—thrown in without further evid noe to account for a single set of facts that may be due to a score of other causes.

The Fram has made a trial of her sugine with petroleum fuel, which answered well. The speed obtained was between six and seven knots. All the crew have joined her with the exception of two, who have yet to be found. Messrs Holland and Holland have supplied six gons of special construction and cartridges for the came. Besides these twelve more guns and rifles will be taken, and their cartridges furnished with bullets of Dr. Mansen's own construc tion. Dredging apparatus and other instrument for obtaining marine specimens have been ob tained from Paris. The idea of taking a balloon has been given up on the ground of expense Various kinds of wooking apparatuses have bee experimented with, but one on Dr. Nansen' model is said to be superior to all others. Sledge have also been built according to his instructions, and though strong and shod with whit metal, only weigh about 164lb. each. Abou three tons of dog biscuits have arrived for the Balinso ....... rise of the dogs which are awaiting him in Manila. Siberia, but if they are of the nature of the Cape S. One deplorable result of excessive ment enting in England is the ill-temper which is a chronic It is not often that an M.P. ventures to pro- complaint. "In no country," declares Mr. duce an article to illustrate his arguments, but Ernest Hart in the Hospital." is home renwhen he does he may be sure, says a writer in dered so unhappy and life made so miserable Cassell's Saturday Journal, that his thoughtful- by the ill-temper of those who are obliged to Femperature ness will be duly appreciated by an assembly which live together as in England. If we compare delights in such incidents. Some years ago, in a domestic life and manners in England with those debate on fremation, Dr Farquharson drow from of other countries where meat does not form such his pocket a glass phial containing the remains of an integral article of diet, a notable improvement a defunct cow which had been honoured with will be remarked. > To the Ninelsonth Century Mr. P. L. Solater the energetic naturalist and secretary to the Zaalagical Society, contributes a very interesting article. In common with every other naturalist what Mr. Solater looks at first is the depressing fact that so many interesting animals are being "civilised" off the face of the globe! Quaggas, white rhinoceri, dodos, and gnat auks have gone. Bisons will soon have gone the same way; the passenger pigeou, formerly met with in millions in the forests of Western America, is now ap extremely rare bird; and the Carolina parakeet, once spread all over the Southern States, is at present to be found only in a few isolated swamps. Even the giraffe, familiar to visitors to our Zoological Gardens for the past fifty years, can no longer be obtained for love or money, and unless Mr. Rhodes can 'square the Mahdi, as he has (promised to do), it seems that the children of the present generation will never know what a living giraffe is like,"
